Priyam Mondal

A software engineer with experience developing full stack web applications. I am constantly seeking to expand my skillset and stay up to date with the latest technologies. I am a quick learner and am always open to new challenges and opportunities to grow as an engineer. My goal is to create high-performing, scalable and user-friendly applications that meet the needs of the end-users. I am a team player and enjoy collaborating with colleagues to achieve a common goal.
